INTRODUCTION

This is an analysis based on the exact time, date, and place of birth calculated on the details supplied.

It is not intended to predict a budding mega-star or a future world leader - the objective is to provide some insights into the psyche of Prince George to give everyone concerned a better chance of understanding, and hopefully helping this special child through the difficult growing times that they will face.

The astrological Chart is a little like a jigsaw puzzle without the benefit of a picture to follow. Some pieces are easy to recognise and they fit together beautifully. Another batch might fit well - but seem unrelated to the first "batch". Several straggly bits probably seem to belong to another world altogether, but that is the human psyche. The depths are immeasurable with many, many forms, faces, and dimensions.

Any Astrological chart will have seemingly several contradictions - again - just like human nature and our psychological make-up. But these apparent differences are all shades, shapes, and forms of the full picture. These "contradictions" should be seen as a balancing factor, knocking some of the edges off our sharp corners or, sharpening up the "softness" in the areas defined.

It should also be recognised that all of us have our own very personal lessons to learn in this life and these lessons unfold throughout the span of our entire life on earth. The learning experiences will not be systematic - they will be random episodes and experiences. Some interpretations of this Chart will give a glimpse of these very personal lessons that are an obvious part of this little one's character. Others may be so private or subtle that the child "learns" all by itself. And then there will be further lessons that will not have emerged or even seem significant yet.

It is hoped that the brief explanations throughout this analysis will help to explain the meanings and terminology of basic Astrology to give as much understanding as possible.

Planets in Signs and Houses

Scorpio Ascendant

The Ascendant is the exact degree in the Zodiac which was rising on the horizon at the time of birth. The term, Ascendant and Rising Sign, is the same. Every 4 minutes, the degree of the Ascendant changes. This is why it is so important to know the exact time of birth. This is the starting point of the astrological wheel and defines the signs on each House cusp in an anti-clockwise direction.

The actual Houses and their meanings are just as important as the signs on the cusp. The sign of the Ascendant is as important as the Sun sign, and its effects are often more obvious to other people. The Ascendant represents how the personality appears to others. Each sign has its own potential strengths which should be developed and weaknesses which should be minimised through understanding.

Prince may run into problems if the rising sign is quite different in nature from the Sun sign. There will be conflict between an element of the inner self and the projected image. So, if any recurring social problems occur, it is necessary to look within.

The Ascendant in the chart is very important. It indicates the ways in which we interact with the world around us, the energies we put out, and the energies we receive from others.

Aspects to the Ascendant indicate what kinds of interaction we experience with others - the impressions we make on people, and the areas of our life that most involve other people. Often these aspects tell us about ourselves.

Prince has the sign of Scorpio reigning the Ascendant or the Rising sign position. This is a deeply private and detached child, but there will be enormous depth. Prince will be an intense and passionate personality. These kids can seem secretive and have little to say a lot of the time, so they can find it difficult to be understood. The natural understanding is quite profound. Many of their conclusions are instinctive, so it is not easy for these kids to explain the complexity of the way their minds work.

Although not usually quick tempered, when Prince does get angry, it will be a long slow burn followed by an eruption of some magnitude. This child will smoulder for a very long time and the memory lasts even longer. In fact, Prince may never forget it if someone really gets under the skin. This passionate nature can be quite cruel, and certainly these kids will develop a sharp and caustic tongue that drips sarcasm. But loaded in too is a huge capacity to love. Prince will love and hate with the same intensity.

This rising sign can be quite deceptive. Prince might seem placid and easy going, but once the hackles are up, this kid can strike fear into most opponents. A little like the Scorpion beetle, their very presence can terrify most people, and this demands respect and caution. If disturbed or rattled, the sting Prince emits will penetrate in an instant. This will be an experience that will not be forgotten in a hurry by the recipient. This personality is also known for turning that "sting" inwardly too. The stubbornness will often cut the nose off to spite the face, in order to keep the pride and dignity in tact.

The Scorpio Ascendant is very intense and often the eyes will be striking. The eyes are usually penetrating and direct. This is a very powerful personality, controlled and sometimes quite overpowering for some people. But in a crisis or a serious situation, this would be the rock of Gibraltar. This is a solid person who can be relied upon to take control. Similarly, as these kids develop they will be able to offer good sound advice. Their strengths and inner knowledge will instil trust provided Prince is not dealing with a fool. Prince will have little tolerance for stupidity. Then the caustic, sarcastic and stinging tongue will be quite insensitive.

Prince can be very jealous and possessive of loved ones, so if there is ever a "new baby" situation, prepare this child. These kids will eventually love every member of their families deeply, but the green-eyed monster will be lurking if they have serious competition thrust on them. These intense children need lots of love, but they need to be encouraged to be a bit more open. They will never wear their hearts on their sleeves, but these children will find life easier if they learn to be more relaxed.

There could be a lot of changes that go on in the home environment that makes these children build up their own sense of security and ways of coping. It is likely that it will be a busy household with lots of people in and out. The parent(s) could be a bit "different" - perhaps highly academic. Maybe they are people who lead a hectic social life that makes this child feel a bit left out. Or Prince could feel isolated, having to manage any minor problems alone. As these kids develop, the answers that are given to any important questions may seem flimsy or perhaps too hurried and so lack the depth that this child seeks. Prince can simply retreat - assuming that no one is taking the time to truly listen. But this sensitive child will learn a great deal through this environment. It will encourage independence. Prince may become rather private and detached from the family as such - which Prince probably feels the parents expect.

Sun in Cancer

The Sun in the Chart is our personal light. It is our vitality, our creativity, and our basic ego. It is the Sun that provokes and promotes emotional security. The Sun represents our individuality. Within the Sun sign is our reason for being, our sense of pride, and our confidence. This is the basis of the search for the real person within. The sign occupied by the Sun at birth describes the nature of these basic drives and patterns. It describes the desire to be important to the people that matter and the ability to be independent and self-reliant. It will give us an indication of the methods used to develop psychologically.

The House will describe the areas of life that will be important and play a major role in our lives. It is here that we have the tools and the gifts to use as they were intended. But we may have to learn some vital lessons before this happens.

Much more is revealed by the aspects to the Sun. Positive aspects (trines, conjunctions or sextiles) are good indicators of self-reliance, confidence, and the ability to stand on one's own two feet. The difficult aspects (squares, oppositions, and inconjunctions) will suggest psychological problems which can have a profound effect on life. However, learning to deal with these difficulties ultimately produces strength and understanding of the self. The rewards of working through these problems are great. The efforts will be productive. Sure, work is needed, but it is worth the effort. However, whenever the planet Saturn brushes up against the Sun, it will suppress and depress the energy of the most exuberant Sun sign.

The Sun is the "self", the "life path", the "true" personality behind all the facades and defences we all put up.

The child will start to grow into their Sun sign during adolescence which can be another reason why these years can be so dramatic and traumatic - this is just another set of growing pains that we all have to endure. The actual Sun sign is often not fully developed until nearer 30 years of age, but the inner spirit will emerge and glimpses will be seen throughout the growing years.

Prince has the Sun in the sign of Cancer. Cancerian children are highly emotional. They are very sensitive and can be very moody. This child is like the crab in a rock-pool. They are very content in their own environment. They have their houses on their backs so that they have somewhere to retreat if they want. If they feel that their territory is being threatened, they give a good sharp nip and then scuttle away. The Cancerian child does not like direct confrontation but will not be afraid to defend what is theirs. This will apply especially if a situation threatens their space or creature comforts of the home environment. Prince can get moody and tearful when in a strange situation with new people. The tendency will be to cling to Mum in a big way until the scene has become more familiar. It will always be best to let this child get to know a "sitter", or a new school, or new group rather than just expecting resilience. Prince is far more likely to get awkward and emotional.

Prince will be ultra sensitive, picking up a sharp look or remark in an instant. These kids will react to a heavy atmosphere, taking every move on-board and probably taking everything very personally. They need lots of emotional support. They want lots of warm cuddles. These kids need encouragement and love in order to feel confident within. This is particularly important in the area of the Mother figure. Prince will absolutely need to know that Mother loves and cares no matter what. This child will need to know that the home is safe and sound and will always be there. There is a great need for a permanent and solid base. Emotional security to this child is a strong and healthy base from which they can grow.

When these basic needs are fulfilled, these children are so giving and caring. They will be there for anyone who needs comfort or shelter because they are naturally very loving little people. They are so maternal that they will never let a chance go by to "mother" anyone or anything. But, when the basic personal needs are not met, these kids do become withdrawn, sulky, very subjective, and, quite selfish. They simply, do not function properly. They need all the love and caring but will need a "quiet time". Prince will always need that private place, that little safe haven, to go to gather the deep and private thoughts.

These kids tend to get very attached to favourite toys or books. Some things will never be tossed out being just too precious. Some of these possessions will be kept to pass on to their own children. Prince will cling to memories that are associated with the past, and as adults, will cherish the good times that is the childhood memories. In many ways, the real Cancerian has a powerful link with history especially their own, so here is your ideal person to start a family tree. Your little Crab would really enjoy that.

If there are several planets in the signs on either side of Cancer (Leo or Gemini), Prince will be a lot more independent and extraverted.

Sun in the Ninth House

9th House: This House reflects the influence and the encouragement from teachers, like report cards, recognition of ability - or lack of needed encouragement and advice. This House is about the development of self-esteem. It is about seeking and sharing knowledge. It is about developing skills and setting goals. It is about expanding on what today offers and taking it into the future.

Natal Horoscope Child Report for Prince George of Cambridge

Prince has the Sun in the ninth house, giving an abundance of energy, a real competitive streak and a willingness to work hard to make the grade. There is a strong sense of curiosity, and this child will want all their questions answered - like now! But Prince will go searching for satisfactory answers too, not being willing to accept shortcuts or superficial explanations. This child will not be satisfied with the easy way out, with "kiddie" type explanations; this will never satisfy this sort of curiosity.

There is the ability not just to perform, but to fully understand the philosophy needed to succeed. Prince will also become quite a motivator who will help others succeed. The Sun in the ninth House makes for a great athlete or gives strong possibilities in any competitive sport - either as a participant or on the sidelines in an administrative role. These kids want to share their knowledge with anyone who will listen. Broadcasting would be an ideal occupation for this placement of the Sun. There can be an aptitude for languages.

The interest will lie in the areas that involve the bigger issues, like philosophy, astronomy, and politics - the world at large. In many ways, this child will never stop learning. Prince will be fascinated by anything concerning foreign and distant places. Travel is bound to figure high on the agenda later in life. These kids would be happy being the eternal gypsy because there is the natural ability to "feel at home" anywhere in the world.

Prince will always be very tolerant and non-judgmental. These kids do not like people who are too critical or who have a bad attitude. Prince will be optimistic and cheerful and prefer the rest of the world to be exactly the same. Life is simply too short for petty trivia.

Moon in Capricorn

The Moon is our instinctive, emotional response. It is the innermost feelings and sensitivities that stem from the subconscious. Our Moon will always be our natural reaction when our defences are down. The Moon reflects our early conditioning, our habits, and the automatic responses that come from our early environment. Often all of this relates directly to the "Mother" figure. It is perhaps the "child" in all of us.

Natal Horoscope Child Report for Prince George of Cambridge

In reading a child's chart, the Moon, in the house, the sign and the aspects, needs to be given special understanding. These are the indications on where Prince could need special attention very early, to cope with feelings of insecurity, lack of confidence, or a low self-esteem. Recognising these needs, and working through them, will help to produce a secure and confident adult.

The Moon often reflects the "Mother figure" in our lives, which is consequently why the Moon figures so strongly in a child's chart. The placement of the Moon often describes the relationship with the Mother, which is why the "Mother" is mentioned in many areas of the Moon explanations.

The Moon sign is the more noticeable personality trait in the formative years. We tend to "grow into our Sun sign as we develop and become the person we were meant to be.

The Moon in the Chart signifies the unconscious attitudes and feelings and whether or not we feel supported and accepted. It is also the accumulated attitude reflected by our own past and the historical past. The Moon will echo values and instincts that are picked up from our early environmental experiences.

This luminary is the most important factor after the influences of the Sun and the Ascendant. It describes how we express our emotions and how well we deal with them.

In some cases, the ever-important Sun can put up some defences against the Moon.

When very different, we can struggle to assimilate our emotions and our reason. Like the other planets, the Moon has strong and weak points in any sign, and we should try to develop the strong points. If the Moon is in compatible company, we will express our emotions very easily and we will be sensitive to other people's needs and feelings. With competition, the Moon can mean that there can be difficulty letting our feelings flow. The Moon and the Ascendant can be of an awkward mix, making the projected personality, and how we actually feel inside, quite different. But, this is all a part of the character and we are well able to bind the differences and round off the disposition.

The Moon and the emotional problems it produces can sound negative but this is not so. This is a beautiful and fundamental part of our deepest psyche that we must all accept and use to its fullest advantage.

Prince was born with the Moon in Capricorn. Even as youngsters, these kids seem to be older than what they are, because they always seem so responsible and reliable.

Children their own age and even kids' games do not actually appeal too much. Often this little one will have to be told to take a break from study or homework and have a bit of fun. They develop strong objectives quite early and will be aware of a strong ambition to actually "do something" with their lives. These kids will be rather serious and quite shy.

Prince may, however, have difficulty understanding and coping with the feelings and sensitivities. These children seem to have been born logical and need to be taught emotional. They also seem to have been born feeling inadequate and will search for signs of true acceptance from a very young age. It is imperative that this little one does feel the warmth and the love from their parent(s) because without this their lives can be swamped with emotional difficulties. From birth almost right through those formative years, this Moon sign needs more emotional support than any other sign. Encouragement, praise and recognition for the hard work which they put in as they grow, needs to be acknowledged to make these kids feel good within. Without this, they will feel a failure at a tender age.

Prince will set such high standards, and be a tough judge and jury in any goals that are set. It is important for this child to learn to find the confidence to believe that they are OK, and that people really do like them. This is so important, but can be difficult to teach. In many ways, these kids will learn for themselves, but the process can take a long time. These serious and cautious young people are so capable, but must develop self-esteem to truly be content and at ease internally. They need to feel comfortable in taking a risk now and again, to be stupid if they want. It is all confidence.

However, although the childhood years can be heavy going for these kids, it usually puts them in good stead for the adult years. As they develop, gain confidence, and feel good about themselves, they will find that they can actually do anything that they want with their life. They have good judgement, sound intuition, and a tenacity with which to see anything through. Prince will have ambition and, once set on the right path, will get to exactly the intended position. Once that aim has been set, nothing will stop this child. An enormous asset that will emerge with the serious Capricorn Moon is a delicious sense of humour. Prince does take life seriously, but the ability to see the funny side, and express the imagination, will be clever and very subtle. The "clown" should be encouraged, so when you see glimpses of this side of the personality, sit back and be entertained.

Moon in the Third House

3rd House: This House is about early education. It is about mental stimulation that provokes learning through interaction and experience. And then using the lessons. The area for the child is the playground, playgroups and mixing with children the same age. It is about becoming familiar with the local environment and the neighbours. This is essentially the House that is all about communication at its best and its beginnings.

With the Moon in the Third House, the instinctive responses experienced by Prince are so strong that it can be difficult, or even impossible to make an objective decision. The moods can change quickly. These kids can change their minds in an instant, making the thought process confused. The words come out wrong. If they answer someone without thinking about what they are saying, they tend to say things that do not fit the situation. Care and patience is needed to get Prince to slow down. This little one does need to know that you are willing to wait, because this child badly needs to be understood. An advantage that Prince has is the ability to develop firm and accurate judgements. It simply takes time to spit it out. There will be a powerful intuition, but also a tendency towards daydreaming and fantasy.

Natal Horoscope Child Report for Prince George of Cambridge

These kids have no problem discussing their feelings. If they are troubled, give them the time to explain where they are coming from and they will tell you. Prince can describe the problem well enough for somebody to help. At least these kids can get problems off their chest - they don't want to hide their innermost thoughts and feelings. It is the emotional responses that they can get wrong.

Prince will also take on board the opinions and attitudes of others very quickly. Often these kids will regurgitate opinions and ideas that "sound good". They should be encouraged to express the very clever and original ideas that are their own because they do not need to copy other people.

Prince will have a good memory. The mind will be filled with a whole lot of useless information that people enjoy. The easiest way of learning for this child is by listening.

There will be a strong emotional attachment to brothers and sisters, if there are any. But, there are bound to be a whole lot of arguments, in spite of the close bonds. This is just a way of cementing the feeling of familiarity and total involvement with loved ones. Prince will learn that there is a deep need for the family and will fret when the family is not around.

Mercury in Cancer

The little planet Mercury is the mythical Messenger of the Gods. This planet is never far away from the Sun, often falling in the same sign at the time of birth, so it does tend to add emphasis to our Sun Sign. Even when Mercury is in the sign before or after the Sun, this is always considered a very personal planet.

Through Mercury, we learn all the basics in life. It indicates how we communicate, because it is here where we begin to watch and copy the rest of the family. This is the very beginning of questions and curiosity that fires up and fuels the learning process. From that point, we move on to recognising the senses, and so our personal tastes and style develops. We learn how to exchange ideas and show how clever we are. We start to question and analyse. We learn to reason and classify what we have absorbed and then stretch for more information.

Mercury is our first experience of moving out into the world beyond the back yard, armed with all that we have learned. Through this planet, our flexibility and dexterity is revealed. This planet covers the intellectual stimuli but it also has a say in how clever we are with our hands and how well balanced we are physically.

Mercury is also associated with the nervous system. This is a busy little planet at the best of times, and responsible for a big part of our intrinsic character. When put under too much pressure, the nervous system buckles. Mercury is indicative of our sense of humour, the body language we exude, and our powers of expression. This is the planet of logic and reason. So, Mercury is indeed a very important planet. It might be tiny, but it is very potent.

Prince has the planet Mercury in the sign of Cancer, which shows a very intuitive mind. Objective thinking will not be easy with the leaning more toward the subjective. The emotions will colour the thinking process.

These children are very sensitive to the environment and can pick up hostile vibes instantly. They do tend to get involved with all sorts of problems and really get too emotionally involved because there is an abundance of kindness here. There is also a deep understanding, and above all, a powerful sense of empathy. This is a very caring and loyal little soul. However, Prince can be a bit of a chameleon and take on the hurts and pain of the world, which can be quite debilitating and depressing. Prince will need to learn to switch off and not become too involved. Show this child that even bad times will pass, for everyone. And bad times can be learning times as well.

The memory should be excellent so Prince will easily absorb knowledge and facts easily. There will be a great love of books and a love of photographs. Anything that provides a permanent link to the past will be treated as very important. Prince will prefer ideas and ideals that have been well established and familiar. Many of the beliefs and opinions that will be a part of the future philosophies will come from the early family environment. This whole area will always be very important, but as they get older, these youngsters must learn to develop their own philosophies. Prince will tend to cling to the experiences and cultural habits that come with the early family package, which often become outdated as each new generation steps out. Prince will need to learn to grow as a person and not be afraid to expand on tradition. Certainly, this child can learn to accept change, but it is not easy, because any changes will be seen as a threat or a challenge to their basic security. These kids will remember their childhood vividly and cherish all the good times.

Prince will be very intuitive, with a vivid imagination. There will not be a fiercely competitive streak because the theory is to make love, not war. However, there is a lot of strength of character here. This seemingly agreeable nature can be quite misleading. Certain stubbornness will achieve plenty of positive results.

Mercury in the Eighth House

8th House: This House is about the parents' values and the provisions that they make. Look here for psychological input from the parents. It is about secrets, subliminal learning and deep changes. Lessons from this House lead to profound understandings often brought about by inevitable change. It is the stirrings of new beginnings and the ashes of the past.

Natal Horoscope Child Report for Prince George of Cambridge

This child with Mercury in the 8th House will be a natural investigator, always trying to get to the bottom of any mystery or problem. These kids are curiosity personified. They want to know and understand all and everything and can seem downright nosy at times. However, the objective will be to get to the truth of the matter.

Prince will be interested in detective stories, mysteries, and tales of murder, especially all the gory details. The supernatural and other deeper subjects will fascinate this little person. Anything will be entertaining if there is scope to dig, delve, and come to personal conclusions. These children do not like to be "lectured" to. They like to be free to draw their own conclusions.

This can be a rather quiet child. There is a clever and complex mind here, which often gives the feeling of isolation in a way. These kids feel that others do not understand. And besides, some of the time their own mind mystifies them and they struggle to find the right words to explain what they are thinking. So, instead of opening up, they do not bother. These youngsters do need their space. They need a bit of privacy and will expect their privacy to be respected.

Prince will also be interested in human nature and acquire a deep knowledge of the human psyche and how it works. This adds to a power that will be a hallmark of the future adult. Mercury in the 8th House usually suggests a person who can project a whole lot of mental power and has a whole lot of "knowing" already within them.

Venus in Virgo

Venus is the planet of love. This tiny planet is responsible for the stirring of the soft and sensual pleasures of nature. Venus opens the doors of appreciation to beauty, harmony, creativity, and of course, love, and affection. Venus arouses and stimulates our senses.

Venus is important because it shows how youngsters interact. It is where children learn to share and give. Venus shows how Prince attracts love and attention and also what and who Prince is attracted to. This planet will indicate whether the basic nature is warm and affectionate or whether there is some reserve attached.

Venus is also about our creature comforts and possessions - what we need in life to feel good. Venus indicates our creativity and artistic talents and the ability to appreciate beauty. Good, bad, or unusual taste will be seen through Venus.

The house that Venus is in indicates the area in which artistic talent is expressed. This is where the expressions of sensual understanding will be valid and utilised. It can also suggest where Prince may need special attention and nourishment, in order to learn how to interact with others.

For future reference, Venus in the signs, houses and aspects will be quite revealing about relationships with the opposite sex and matters of the heart.

Natal Horoscope Child Report for Prince George of Cambridge

With Venus, the planet of love and comfort, in the careful sign of Virgo, Prince will be quite shy and emotionally reserved. This little person will analyse how they feel before they reach out. The seemingly cool exterior often covers for a lack of confidence deep down. These children are not particularly demonstrative, as they prefer to 'show' how much they care in a more practical way. Maybe lots of cuddles and reassurance from the very beginning can help solve this. They might not be as cuddly as some children might be, but they do need warmth, affection, and the physical touch of a loving parent or friend.

One thing that will help to instil confidence in Prince is to feel useful. These children just love to feel part of the working crew and they feel at their best when occupied in doing something constructive. This generous child will never have to be asked, but will appreciate it when they are asked to lend a hand. But even as a tiny tot, Prince will be waiting for acknowledgement of effort put in, and results. Making themselves valuable is one way that this willing child is able to show their love and affection. The only negative here is that Prince can feel that being so obliging and so willing is the only way to get noticed, and feel loved. Self esteem and self-confidence must be raised and instilled. There is a natural tendency for these children to feel totally insecure with respect to their own self worth. This little one does need to learn to love themselves as well as others.

Encourage all kinds of crafts. The eye of the perfectionist will go to great lengths to do a fine job and Prince will enjoy creating things. In fact, anything that has been broken will be given new life, if it is possible, through the patient and caring hands of this little one. Also, give Prince some small chores to do. To be able to help and to feel trusted are what this child will thrive on. But, give lots of praise and a big hug to say thank-you. The contented smile will be worth it.

Venus in the Ninth House

9th House: This House reflects the influence and the encouragement from teachers, like report cards, recognition of ability - or lack of needed encouragement and advice. This House is about the development of self-esteem. It is about seeking and sharing knowledge. It is about developing skills and setting goals. It is about expanding on what today offers and taking it into the future.

Prince has the planet Venus in the 9th House so Prince will have an absolute love of learning. These children will enjoy any activity that allows them to learn and develop. They want to be on the move to be able to cover as much ground as possible. Prince will want to go everywhere, see everything, and know everybody.

These children will become fascinated with art and beautiful objects, especially pieces that are unusual and different with a story attached. For these children, beauty is a basic part of the world as it should be. Prince will be enthralled by a glorious sunset or sunrise. The wonders of a rainbow will fascinate. The pounding surf or the gentle brook will be poetry in motion to this curious child. This intuitive nature will appreciate many of the natural wonders that most young children would miss.

Prince will be utterly charming with a congenial and friendly personality. There is the natural ability to see and bring out the best in most people. A ninth house Venus suggests lengthy pleasure trips, which may later provide opportunities. Maybe important social contacts or romance could bloom in a rather exotic situation or place. Later in life, Prince could well form strong attachments with friends, or even a partner, from another part of the world, from a different race, different culture, or religion. It is highly likely that later this child will settle far away from their place of birth. Major problems should be few for Prince - apart from over-indulgence perhaps.

Mars in Cancer

Mars is essentially the "I am" in us. It is the "I -me -and -mine" - the basic, subjective ego. It is our energy, our initiative, and our drive. It is our aggression, our temperament, and our passion. Mars is the physical side of our psyche. A strong Mars makes for great sports people because they will be competitive with a real desire to win. Later in life, Mars indicates our sex drive.

This is a fiery little planet, so a strong Mars is a "fiery" little person who runs on high octane - one who will never know when to stop. The "water signs" can dilute this energy somewhat, or can perhaps drive the passion inward. The "fire" will then not be so obvious. However, once we get the hang of our Mars sign, it is an important part of us. It is the fuel on which we run.

The child with Mars in Cancer will be ruled by how they feel. Prince will have powerful emotions that rise to the surface very quickly and very easily. When at peace, this child will be cheerful, confident, and quite assertive. But when depressed, they will retreat into their shell becoming touchy and irritable. Prince will at times seem to "clam up." It is important that these little ones are coaxed into explaining how they feel when they seem sad or confused. They must learn to express their anguish and a patient ear will be needed to take the time to listen. This child will need to learn to understand their emotions and not try to hold their anger in. It is much better to express how they feel in a rational way so that resentments do not build up and poison their whole attitude. The tendency to keep anger in will result in a permanent and deep grudge, which could have little foundation. Anguish that is suppressed distorts and festers and soon loses its basis and its balance. Prince must learn to deal with feelings more openly and freely and then let the matter rest.

Harsh words or even a heavy atmosphere will hurt this youngster deeply. It makes them quite angry, especially if they are in unfamiliar company. Prince will take it all very personally. These kids tend to worry in their stomachs. When they are upset, it will affect the digestive system badly. This position of Mars often indicates difficulties and disagreements with the family.

This child will be fiercely protective of family and the home environment. This will be of the utmost importance. Prince badly needs to feel protected, too. There will be a great love of family and the family background. Heritage inspires enormous feelings of loyalty.

As a teenager, Prince could well find dealing with the opposite sex a bit of a trial. The feelings run deep but this private adolescent will find it too embarrassing to discuss the "big shift" that the awakening of the hormones provoke. The basic facts of life should be allowed to unfold gently and naturally. This will help to dissolve the apprehension.

These children are ambitious and hard working but frequently change their goals and direction. Yet they place a huge importance on security. These are pleasant and caring children to have around. They just need to learn to control their moods rather than let their moods control them. Give this child the confidence to express how they feel and encourage them to try to explain why they feel certain way. It is then that you must help Prince learn to forgive and forget.

Mars in the Eighth House

8th House: This House is about the parents' values and the provisions that they make. Look here for psychological input from the parents. It is about secrets, subliminal learning and deep changes. Lessons from this House lead to profound understandings often brought about by inevitable change. It is the stirrings of new beginnings and the ashes of the past.

Prince has Mars in the 8th house. These children will always be noticed in a crowd. Both deep strength and energy will be easily recognised. Prince will be quite intense and seem to be quite domineering. This child is black and white with no grey areas. They may seem as though they have accepted defeat but they never will. This youngster will never give up.

Prince will be a real specialist at getting things done. These kids like nothing better than solving problems that require some digging. They will be very inquisitive. They will want to know all the ins and outs. But they could keep their own ideas and thoughts to themselves because they can be quite secretive. This child does have great scientific ability that can lead to pure success in adulthood.

Prince will be slow to anger - but when this youngster (or older) is crossed, they will not forget. In many ways, these people, without intending to, emit power that others may almost fear at times. The tendency is to silently smoulder, creating a dark and heavy atmosphere. These children have such strong desires. It will be very difficult for anyone to stop them from doing something that they have decided on. And if they do want something, they will do everything in their power to get it. This often leads to conflict.

It can be difficult for Prince to share anything, because these kids will feel that they are losing it totally. They can also have a problem knowing what is theirs and what is not. This could lead to a case of "what's mine is mine and what's yours is mine" sort of thing. This may result in arguments between this child and other members of the family over who owns what. This can continue to carry on into adulthood if it is not addressed early on.

Prince will do everything with great intensity, which should be an advantage most of the time. But these kids can drive themselves too hard physically. This can be a problem when they are older. Prince does need to learn to understand "moderation" while young enough to be trained.

Jupiter in Cancer

Jupiter is a slower moving planet that stays in the same sign for about a year. Its sign has a direct personal effect only when it is in close aspect to the Ascendant or Midheaven, or forms a strong aspect with one of the personal planets. Jupiter is the planet of expansion, growth, and often, luck.

The house position of Jupiter relates to areas of life in which we will want to grow. It shows the area in which we are likely to think positively and optimistically. In a general sense, things work well for us in the house that Jupiter occupies. The keyword for Jupiter is expansion. That can be physically, mentally, or spiritually. Jupiter's position can relate to the expansion of assets relating to financial freedom, or perhaps, even, weight.

The kids with Jupiter in Cancer need a whole lot of emotional security. Prince will need lots of love, assurance, and stability from the family. The emotional experiences of the earliest childhood are extremely important. These children need to have a deep belief in those on whom they depend for support and guidance. They need to know that their family, especially the parents, love and support them and will always be there. They need to feel that they are part of a loving atmosphere and not just products "of a good home". The community in which these children grow up will always be important to them, conditioning many of their attitudes about life.

Prince can be so very easily damaged emotionally if the immediate and early family fails to meet all the deep psychological needs. If these kids feel starved of this vital ingredient, they can well spend most of their life looking for someone on whom they can depend. But really, they will never believe that such a person exists. When the adequate security in childhood is received, this child will relate well to others and will develop into a very giving and very caring person.

There could be benefits through inheritance later in life. However, Prince should be able to accumulate money and possessions independently anyway. Often full potential is not reached until mid-life.

Jupiter in the Eighth House

8th House: This House is about the parents' values and the provisions that they make. Look here for psychological input from the parents. It is about secrets, subliminal learning and deep changes. Lessons from this House lead to profound understandings often brought about by inevitable change. It is the stirrings of new beginnings and the ashes of the past.

Prince has Jupiter in the 8th House. This very determined youngster will be quite intense. There will be the philosophy that anything worth doing has to be done well. When these kids are truly interested in a subject, it will be obsessive. They will go the whole hog. They will be diligent and thorough with remarkable staying power.

Generally speaking, this youngster will always gain far more through enterprises or joint ventures. They are able to share what they have, and in turn, others will always share with them. Often this child will benefit from someone who is older and more experienced than they are.

With maturity, Prince will develop the knack of knowing instinctively what ideas to follow through. This child will have vision. They will be able to see the value in projects that do have a future.

In adulthood, this child could develop an interest in medicine and healing, especially psychological or psychic healing. Through a built in wisdom, there will be an uncanny knowledge on the more obscure forms of medical issues. Prince could be highly gifted. For a young person this child will have an unusually good understanding of human nature.

Later in life and involved in partnerships and relationships with the opposite sex, Prince could gain significantly in the financial area. Any future partner should be a good provider who will put this person on a high pedestal.

Saturn in Scorpio

Natal Horoscope Child Report for Prince George of Cambridge

There are always two sides of Saturn - what is, and what can be. Saturn stays in the same sign for approximately two and a half years, so all of the children born around the same time as Prince will show the same characteristics. Saturn in the sign is therefore personal only when forming one or more aspect(s) with the personal planets, the Ascendant, or the Midheaven.

Read these aspects thoroughly to be more aware of Saturn and what it has to teach this child.

Saturn is all about progress, but it is the slow and sure progress - nothing happens quickly with this rather severe planet. This is where we learn the art of survival. Saturn makes us stop, look, and listen and not go rushing in. This is where we come up against brick walls, where we have to review the lessons learned and modify the next move.

Saturn makes us accept responsibility, accept a challenge, and move forward. Saturn is the reason behind many of our fears, our sense of guilt and our sense of failure, but, again, when we beat these obstacles, we are so much wiser and stronger.

The House in which Saturn falls signifies the areas where life can be tough. Nothing seems to come easily, and yet the prospects are of significance. This is the area where our fears will have to be addressed, and where our confidence will need to be lifted.

Discipline and patience will be badly needed here in order for us to gain control. It is where we must stop and think, but ultimately we learn from Saturn - he is a great teacher. Saturn is often related to the father figure, or the "authority" figure that influences Prince. Difficult aspects with Saturn often indicate problems in this area.

Saturn often sounds rather negative which is not accurate. Consider Saturn as a hurdle that is there to be conquered - not as an obstacle to fear.

Prince has the planet, Saturn, in the passionate sign of Scorpio. There will be very deep emotions, but often these emotions are so suppressed that they can be hard to reach. Saturn is so reserved and Scorpio is so private making, that this combination can be depth personified.

These kids will have remarkable self-control. They put such high demands on themselves and on others. The sense of responsibility is intense and the sense of sheer purpose will be difficult to contain. These kids emit a strong force. The sheer willpower and internal energy can be overwhelming for idle bystanders and friends.

Prince will have few grey areas. These kids love and hate with the same intensity and can be very unforgiving. This can cause a lot of problems in relationships because the willingness to bend and "give" can be limited. A guarded secrecy will surround this little one.

Prince must be coaxed into learning to trust and open up. The reluctance to communicate and share can eventually weigh quite heavy because more than anything this little one will "feel" different and quite solitary. This combination can be so beneficial, making it quite natural to be able to make brilliant decisions based on both logic and inner knowledge. But this little one does need to be able to share in order to feel any sort of real contentment.

Saturn in the Twelfth House

12th House: This is a rather abstract House. It is the place of retreat - and rejuvenation. It is the dream world. It is where and how the child escapes. This is the House where learning and getting in touch with the inner self occurs. This House can harbour fears and phobias. In many ways, the 12th House can be a lonely place, but many lessons are learned from this area and many talents emerge. The realms of the deepest imagination are touched through this House.

Prince has the planet, Saturn, in the Twelfth House. This can be a lonely and scary house for Saturn to be in until it is understood. It can certainly be difficult in the young adult years. These kids are so easily discouraged and will beat themselves up for no particular reason. There is a natural sense of inferiority with the feeling that they do not measure up - and no-one listens. They often feel that they are not particularly well liked, and in many ways, they feel "unlovable". No matter how hard friends or family try to convince them they are great, these kids just cannot accept it or believe it. Prince can reject all offers of help no matter how sincere and loving. Often this attitude can be the result of upheavals or instability that can be traced back to very early experiences. This could be an isolated and minor episode but enough to break the trust of this small child. The subconscious carefully stores all the experiences and memories which can surface at anytime at all.

Prince will need to be guided carefully and lovingly through the basis of this inadequacy. It usually is within so has to be extracted out into the open. With maturity, these problems will lessen and this child will become more secure and self-confident. But somewhere along the line, the door to the closet will have to be opened to let the ghosts fly free - and then watch all fears fly away. But often these poor kids will need a bit of a helping hand to find the courage to open that door.

However, this placement can also indicate a chronic illness of some kind that has to be lived with, which will never suggest an easy life. But Saturn in the 12th House often indicates an inner battle that needs to be fought in some way, shape, or form.

Turning Saturn into a positive can reap great rewards. Prince, with inner strength restored, will have the ability to realise all those dreams. The imaginative and sensitive gifts can be remarkable and with the solid help of Saturn, these gifts can materialise into a real rock-solid worth.

Uranus in the Fourth House

Natal Horoscope Child Report for Prince George of Cambridge

4th House: This House is about the early home environment, the 'Mother' influence, and the family. This is the House where traditions are set and preserved. This is where basic development begins and where lifetime habits are formed. This House is all about nurturing.

Prince has the unpredictable planet Uranus in the 4th House. Often this can suggest that the early environment can be fraught with changes. There could be changes in residence, family patterns - even changes in the family. It could be that Prince never quite feels settled. Prince may have been adopted, or simply feel adopted by way of an explanation. One of the parents may be distant, different, or even absent. Prince could feel a lack of parental love and caring. The child/parent rapport can be quite unusual where role reversal becomes the pattern. But, if there is caring and support within the home environment, even if it is not traditional and conventional, this should not pose a major problem. Prince will grow up feeling well equipped to handle any changes that life might bring.

At best, this is a sign of a free spirit. But coping with many differences can cause strain from time to time.

Prince will also want to break away and be free from quite a young age. These children want to make their own decisions and set their own pace. However, this could well be the sort of adult that will not be particularly interested in acquiring too many assets that will bog them down. Prince could adopt a rather unusual lifestyle and will care little for what other people think. This person does not try to please.

Neptune in the Third House

3rd House: This House is about early education. It is about mental stimulation that provokes learning through interaction and experience. And then using the lessons. The area for the child is the playground, playgroups and mixing with children the same age. It is about becoming familiar with the local environment and the neighbours. This is essentially the House that is all about communication at its best and its beginnings.

Neptune in the Third House heightens the imagination, which Prince will show in all areas of creative communication. Neptune in this House often suggests dealings with the media or with advertising. Poetry, prose, - in fact any sort of inspired word will draw Prince. However, there can be a wee problem that needs to be sorted. These kids have to learn to separate truth from fantasy, separate what they want to believe from what they know to be true. Prince must be taught to identify the imagination, the logical, and the actual, and then deal with the differences of all areas on an equal footing.

Natal Horoscope Child Report for Prince George of Cambridge

This child, when young, will have some problems with stopping the mind from drifting and wandering. There can even be nervous disorders as there can be deep insecurities in the childhood years. Often there can be rifts with the family at some stage, which could attribute to this "nervousness". This could also attribute to the tendency to fabricate or expand on the truth. It is not always the case, but there is a strong possibility with Neptune in the third House, that lies and deceit do come easily.

These kids can put family members on an unrealistic pedestal rather than accept a less than perfect situation. There are many ways that Prince could actually feel deceived and in turn, become deceptive. Obviously, this sensitive kid needs to be taught to accept reality and opt for the inspirational world of fantasy as an adventure and a creative but productive part of the psyche. With this vivid imagination, these children can say a great deal to make others understand. Take the time to allow Prince to shake off the negatives and share the positives. Neptune in the third House shows a very intuitive mind, and sometimes, clairvoyant abilities. Prince can be too idealistic and quite gullible so must learn not to accept everything so readily.

Pluto in the Second House

2nd House: This House is about values and possessions. It is the "my things" attitude. It is where nourishment is needed to feel confident and secure. This House is about experiencing the sensual fundamentals in order to feel fulfilled and loved. This House puts a real value on tangible assets and it is where real fears are born with respect to deprivation. It is also where we learn to provide for ourselves if we must. It is where we discover our "comfort zone".

2nd House: This House is about values and possessions. It is the "my things" attitude. It is where nourishment is needed to feel confident and secure. This House is about experiencing the sensual fundamentals in order to feel fulfilled and loved. This House puts a real value on tangible assets and it is where real fears are born with respect to deprivation. It is also where we learn to provide for ourselves if we must. It is where we discover our "comfort zone".

Prince has the powerful planet, Pluto, in the Second House so will have strong needs and plenty of energy to work towards goals and assets. When these kids want something, they want it bad and no one will stop them. Usually a possession will be the aim.

As these children gets older, they will discover that money is very important - not simply as cold hard cash - but as a means to freedom. Prince may not be possessive, but the sense of "ownership" will be strong. This child will willingly share, but there will be no doubt as to who is the rightful owner. By "owning" lots of things, they can wield a bit of power. It is important that Prince has complete control over all possessions. Interference from others will not be tolerated.

Natal Horoscope Child Report for Prince George of Cambridge

The major problem can be that these possessions can end up "possessing" the person. Later, Prince can become too bogged down and restricted because of assets. It is important to learn quite early that security and control comes from within. And if these people want to be free to make choices in life, they have to measure up the real worth of all the excess baggage.

Later in life, Prince could be very resourceful in earning money. There will be a broad vision of what will work financially. Hunches can be very accurate. But, these people can also be tempted by a "bargain" that may cause them grief in the end and not be such a bargain at all. If it sounds too good to be true - then it probably is.

Planets in Aspect

EXPLANATION OF THE ASPECTS

An explanation of the Aspects: These are very important in any natal chart. It is when 2 or more planets "make connection" with each other. To be of significance, the "orb" or degree of this connection, must be relatively close. All the Aspects are of significance, but some are more powerful than are others. And, of course, they all have different meanings.

All of the aspects that are relevant are automatically listed in order of strength. Obviously, the higher the strength the more relevant and potent the aspect.

Conjunction: A powerful and dynamic aspect. This is when two or more planets are sitting right next to each other and they will either back each other up, or compete against each other. Being in the same sign and same house adds up to a lot of weight.

Trine: A distance of 120-degrees between any planet forms a "Trine". These planets will be in the same Element so they will blend well and flow. The Trine brings comfort, ease, and benefit with little effort.

Sextile: The distance between any planets involved in a "Sextile" is 60 degrees. This aspect brings the opportunity to be productive or creative. But the energy of the Sextile must be used - it will not just "happen" Both planets will fall in either Masculine or Feminine signs, so they are compatible.

Square: There will be a 90-degree separation between any planets involved in a "Square". Here is an indication of obstacles and stress that need to be worked through. The planets "square off" against each other but - these are personal learning curves of life. These are hurdles for us to jump but through them we learn and grow. The lessons from Squares tend to be subjective. These aspects will be in signs of the same quality.

Opposition: As the name suggests, any planets that form an "opposition" will be smack, bang opposite each other at 180-degrees apart. This is where one learns to compromise and give a little. The opposition usually involves other people. These lessons are quite objective. Being in polar opposite signs of the zodiac, these planets mirror each other.

Inconjunct also known as the Quincunx: This is considered a "minor" aspect but is about our personal growth and long-term development in the area of the personality. It shows us our limitations and how we can expand a little. The distance between the two celestial bodies here will be 150 degrees apart. Being relatively minor, the orb used is generally rather tight. This aspect would be almost exact to rate in this interpretation.

Saturn trine Neptune (Strength: 5.88)

Trines bring ease, harmony, and success, which need little effort. They can help creativity.

Prince has Saturn trine the slow moving planet, Neptune. Because both of these planets move rather slowly, the effects will not be strictly personal. This same aspect will be in the charts of all of the children born around the same time as Prince. Unless there are reinforcements in other parts of this chart, these short interpretations should be regarded as a minor part of the complete picture.

Quite simply, Saturn stands for "structure" and Neptune stands for "fantasy". These kids can grapple badly with a rich imagination and a strong feeling of "having to tell the truth". They feel that if they let their thoughts and impressions run free, they will be accused of being silly. They can discard that wonderful world of fantasy and daydreaming because it is childish and not grown up. It can be too easy for this bunch of kids to be ruled by discipline at the cost of using the whole of their creative ability. They must be encouraged to learn the difference and accept that fantasy is wonderful. Creativity is fun. Expression is essential. This little one is unique and well able to enrich life by accepting the beautiful pictures and words that flit through the subconscious.

This aspect can show that spiritual guides could well be with this person taking them to a high spiritual purpose. They can be both practical and idealistic, and they can rationalise spiritual concepts well. Many clergymen have this natal aspect.

Mars conjunct Jupiter (Strength: 5.84)

Natal Horoscope Child Report for Prince George of Cambridge

The conjunction adds emphasis to the power, the energy, and the vitality of the planets.

Prince has the energetic planet Mars Conjunct the expansive planet Jupiter. Jupiter expands on whatever it touches, and in this close proximity Prince will be naturally optimistic and have a strong sense of purpose. This energetic kid will want to be on the go the whole time. There will always be new friends to make, new places to go, and new things to try. Doing the same things, seeing the same people, will appear to Prince as overly restrictive.

Prince will have little sense of fear, which can be quite scary for a parent watching on. The curiosity and the sheer confidence can make this kid feel bullet-proof. The grass will always be greener on the other side of the fence for this little one. Nothing will be deemed impossible.

Prince should be steered into sport at an early age. This enormous energy needs an outlet and this aspect often indicates athletic ability. Prince, being highly competitive, will enjoy interaction with other kids, so the perfect solution for this exuberant kid is to "run off" the high voltage.

These kids like to be in charge. In fact, they can have a lot of difficulty obeying orders. They seldom "give in" to anyone. But this is a confident decision-maker. Prince will have an incredible sense of timing, which often produces results. The colourful expression and the power of persuasion help Prince to convince others and make it relatively easy for Prince to win against any opposition. These kids can "sell" their ideas with great flair and usually get just what they want. When the adolescent years roll in, Prince will become well aware of a load of sex appeal that simply adds to the charming nature. This asset will be another weapon in the armoury of persuasive charm.

In many ways, Prince has been born "lucky". The powerful personality is a huge asset. The clever ideas and the ability to diversify will help results - and enrich power. These kids have ability and they have charisma.

Prince should look forward to a diverse and interesting life. The objective will be to cover as much ground as possible and to experience as much of life as is humanly possible.

This character will not know when to stop. The frantic pace that is set cannot be altered; Prince will expect everyone else to have the same stamina and the same agenda

Sun opposite Moon (Strength: 5.31)

The oppositions bring about awareness through compromise. Conflict within the opposition can involve either internal or external issues.

Natal Horoscope Child Report for Prince George of Cambridge

Prince has the Sun in opposition to the Moon which is the full Moon phase. This produces fluctuating energy flows. These children need to learn to take advantage of the highs to get things done and take a rest during the lows. The emotions and the basic willpower tend to compete, so these kids can be highly logical or, alternatively, extremely emotional.

This child will learn to understand through simple debate, or this could be seen as straight out arguing with friends and peers. They are likely to seek the viewpoints of friends in order to gain confidence but will make up their own minds. Prince will still argue the point because other people's opinions will be the yardstick for this child, not the rulebook. There will be a tendency to have strong opinions, and these kids will usually fight for what they believe to be right. But they still want and need those alternative ideas and ideals. Alternatives give a sense of perspective to the basic philosophy.

These kids will seek truth. They will enjoy true stories about true heroes. Scientific and modern technology will intrigue because there is a real curiosity about progress and the world at large. Later, Prince will respect people who make history or change the world in a big way. Idols will be great leaders and legends rather than a "five-minute-wonder" pop star idol.

Many people turn to the Full Moon person in times of need, but unfortunately, this can be difficult for these people because this phase has enough problems to cope with. Often the sea-saw personality reflects back to childhood. Maybe the parents or the home environment is indecisive or changeable. But when the balancing act in the emotional department has been learned, usually a very high achiever emerges.

Jupiter trine Saturn (Strength: 5.01)

Trines bring ease, harmony, and success, which need little effort. Can help creativity.

Prince has the big planet Jupiter in Trine to the limitations of the planet Saturn. Both of these planets move rather slowly, so this aspect will apply to all of the children in the same age group as Prince. Unless there are other examples, of a close association between Jupiter and Saturn, with one or more of the personal planets, this aspect should be regarded as rather "general". Jupiter expands and Saturn limits. Jupiter is optimistic whilst Saturn is cautious. Jupiter is confident and Saturn is suspicious. And throughout life when these two planets make a connection these kids will "feel" quite a powerful pull.

With this aspect, Prince is willing to patiently persevere in order to accomplish something significant. Even while they are quite young, kids with this aspect are able to plan and visualise. They should be highly organised and their straightforward views will make these aspirations attainable. School results should reflect the abilities because the diligence and the patience should shine through. Discipline is generally a natural fundamental. Little time will be wasted chasing dreams. These kids know their potential and should feel quite comfortable with that.

Mercury square Uranus (Strength: 4.99)

The Squares are quite subjective. Squares bring challenges that must be worked through.

With the expressive planet Mercury square the erratic planet Uranus, Prince will say whatever comes into the head. These kids will not take too much time to think things through. If they can be guided into learning to control the mental energy, this aspect can be a bit of a bonus.

Prince will be attracted to thrilling and exciting ideas. If there is a challenge to be met, Prince will be the first out of the starting blocks. There is a natural ability to understand even the most complex procedures. But, the light of curiosity does blind these kids. They see the outcome, but will struggle to work through the process of understanding in order to learn the mechanics. This abstract thinking is clever, but it does not deal with content. Prince will go bouncing from one new idea to the next, becoming jack of all trades and master of none. These kids do find it difficult to concentrate. The pace that the mind moves at is incredible, but again, the strategy and true comprehension is sparse.

The quick humour that will develop can be cryptic and, sometimes, caustic. Prince will use a unique imagination to its fullest by being shocking just for effect. There is something of the practical joker here, but the timing can be a bit off, so maybe not always appreciated by the recipients. Prince will have to learn accept that others may not understand this particular brand of humour.

The communication skills and the word power will undoubtedly be clever, but mental energies can be wasted in temperamental warfare. Prince will love a battle of wits and will take the other side of just about any argument just for the fun of it. This independent mind can make for a real leader, but the best thought-out ideas often never reach completion unless discipline has been instilled early. The art of compromise and a respect for others will help to round off this high spirited, clever kid.

Jupiter trine Neptune (Strength: 4.89)

Trines bring ease, harmony, and success, which need little effort. Can help creativity.

Natal Horoscope Child Report for Prince George of Cambridge

Prince has the big planet Jupiter trine to the dreamy planet Neptune. Neptune moves very slowly. So all children born around the same time will share this aspect. It should not be considered particularly personal.

These children will be sensitive with very high ideals. They will have dreams of the world being a better place. They will be able to see the faults of society and will want to put them to right. These kids will love to help improve the lives of others. But this is not an absolute dreamer. This child will be able to tell the difference between what is fact and what is not, and will be willing to accept reality.

Often these kids will be interested in religious or spiritual pursuits. They need to feel that they are in tune with the universe. They may also be dedicated to fantasy where magic is real and strange beings exist. These kids often have a real affiliation with the supernatural.

With such a vivid imagination, these kids can be very creative. But, equally, they can simply drift through life. This little person could easily become a bit of a gambler. These kids can take silly risks. It would be helpful to lead by example here and enforce the idea that gambling can be destructive and a very dangerous game.

Mars trine Saturn (Strength: 4.85)

Trines bring ease, harmony, and success, which need little effort. Can help creativity.

Prince has the energetic planet Mars Trine Saturn. This will be a reserved and controlled little person, one who will want to understand all situations thoroughly. This good soldier always finishes assigned duties. These children will develop a sense of discipline while they are still quite young. In many ways, Prince can seem to be motivated by adult concerns. In fact, one of the main problems is a difficulty in letting go and having a good time like other young people. Even while quite young, this child will be more interested in activities that are important in the adult world - such as business, success, and making money. This is only the beginning of what should turn out to be a very careful and controlled career.

Prince can be too cautious at times, waiting too long and so missing valuable opportunities. These youngsters do not like taking chances. Prince believes in hard work, not luck, or fate. These kids are so sensible. They will not go chasing rainbows. Prince likes to be in full control.

These kids are very good at work that requires meticulous attention to detail. They can put a lot of energy into fairly narrow and tedious objectives. They will hang in there until they get a result.

Natal Horoscope Child Report for Prince George of Cambridge

Later in life, Prince may be restrained and reserved in social situations. There can be some difficulty in letting the hair down - or maybe, afraid of letting the "self" show through would be a more accurate description. Puberty and the early teenage years will be exciting because adulthood is on the horizon, but it will also be confusing for Prince. The rush of hormones will defy logic and upset the controlled flow of emotions. These adolescents can be slow to adjust to the huge emotional and physical changes that take place. Relating to the opposite sex will be cautious because Prince will worry too much. But, everything will fall in to place in good time.

Mars trine Neptune (Strength: 4.73)

Trines bring ease, harmony, and success, which need little effort. Can help creativity.

Prince has the energetic planet Mars Trine the dreamy planet Neptune. These children are quite shy and do not have a whole lot of confidence. They are reluctant to commit themselves or even to assert themselves. These kids often feel that they cannot compete, so they give up without even trying.

Prince is an idealist who will see the world as far nicer than it actually is. There will be a struggle to cope with reality, preferring dreams and fantasies. There will be little ambition, except to try to draw out the creativity. There is bound to be a keen aptitude here, but the courage to expose it could be buried quite deep.

As these youngsters develop, keen sensitivities let them tune into the environment in a very special way. They are able to size up a situation or a person easily. But they will still be a soft touch for any hard-luck story that comes along. People who seem helpless always arouse sympathy in Prince, but, unfortunately, the efforts put in may not be all that helpful in the long run. It can become a personal mission for Prince. These helpful souls must make sure what their motives are when they extend their compassionate hand. It can be too easy to accept responsibility for someone else at the expense of facing personal issues. These people can skilfully avoid their own "real" world by honing in entirely on another person's life and experiences.

As a teenager, Prince could rather resent the hormonal rush and the changes it brings. The emotions can be close to the surface due to a reluctance to adjust. Relating to the opposite sex will be relatively easy, but understanding the feeling that sexuality provokes can be confusing. This charismatic kid will be highly sought after but could be a little slow to truly participate.

The psychic side of this child's nature and the physical side are well blended. They will understand their own feelings and inspirations. Prince may also develop an interest in artistic dance, or Yoga, or some sort of activity that involves physical expression.

Natal Horoscope Child Report for Prince George of Cambridge

Sun trine Ascendant (Strength: 4.21)

Trines bring ease, harmony, and success, which need little effort. They can help creativity.

With the Sun trine the Ascendant, Prince will be easy to recognise in a crowd. There will be an abundance of self-confidence, and the personality will have "success" indelibly stamped somewhere. As these children get older, they will have a need to live exactly as they want. Prince certainly has "star quality" and will be a remarkable performer. This kid is an exhibitionist, and life has to include lots of fun and lots of playtime. Leisure is a top priority. But hard work is not nearly so attractive. Prince has to "enjoy" any activity to make it worthy of concentrated effort, and if satisfaction is missing, energy and interest will grind to a halt.

Later in life the same will apply to the working life. Prince will not be willing to make the usual kinds of compromises in choosing a career. Thus there is a good chance of being happy, fulfilled, and successful in their chosen careers.

Prince has a lot of pride, a caring nature and a well balanced attitude. This will be a valuable asset. The honest approach will be straight forward and uncomplicated which friends will seriously trust. However, tact and diplomacy can be rather lacking. Prince will say it as it comes and feel that being candid is more important than being "nice".

Prince will like to learn about anything that increases the understanding of the world but will not be interested in the minor details. The eye is firmly on the big picture. These impatient kids want to start at the top and not have to work their way through any tedious process - but of course, we all have to start somewhere.

This aspect often indicates success, so it is not the worst start for Prince to go through life with.

Venus square Ascendant (Strength: 4.04)

The Squares are quite subjective. Squares bring challenges that must be worked through.

With Venus, the planet of Love, in square to the Ascendant, this child will be very popular. They will be very positive with loads of friends. Prince will be utterly and completely charming, but there is a tendency to overdo the charm at the expense of application. These children can be a bit lazy and a bit self-indulgent. They can think that life is too easy and it doesn't require a whole lot of effort. They will let their friends do the real work while they reflect the glory. They do get their own way so easily.

Often these kids have a powerful charisma that is a great asset. They often have a real attraction that is hard to resist. These fortunate children have such a gift for expression that they can turn the ugliest situation into an acceptable situation just with pure tact and diplomacy. They can soothe with a natural ease. With just a bit of work these children can do whatever they want and at the same time contribute something. It would take a lot to mar this lovely aspect.

Moon sextile Ascendant (Strength: 3.90)

Sextiles bring chances and opportunity. Effort is needed to realise the full potential.

Prince has the Moon in sextile to the Ascendant. This gives a powerful and close link to friends, family, and the neighbourhood in general. These kids do have a great need to belong, to be accepted, and to be understood. In fact, Prince will need to learn to be a little more independent. These kids will need to be more prepared for the times in their life when they have to make important and personal choices. They have to learn to project their own thoughts and ideals and feel free to be guided by their own inner spirit.

But this perceptive child does understand friends and family very well. The first option will always be to help and be there for support. These kids are generally well liked because the personality is calm and easy. There is very little in their demeanour to dislike.

Prince will prefer to spend time with friends, gravitating towards similar types of people. This can limit the experiences a little. These kids will need to broaden their sights in order to grow - learning to accept different types of people and different types of philosophies. Prince will have to learn to adapt to change and try to be more flexible. It will be a simple matter to encourage Prince to broaden the circle of friends, because the love of people in general knows no barriers.

This aspect indicates a need to travel in adulthood or adolescence. This is one way for these kids to spread their wings and broaden the outlook. As an adult, this aspect helps in the area of public relations, or it may favour political ability. The communicative skills are effective, sincere and totally convincing.

Mars opposite Pluto (Strength: 2.35)

The oppositions bring about awareness through compromise. Conflicts from the opposition can involve either internal or external issues.

Natal Horoscope Child Report for Prince George of Cambridge

Prince has the fiery planet Mars opposing the powerful planet Pluto. These children can struggle in getting along with others because they do tend to have a defiant attitude. They can easily alienate others just by their expression. Even the body language that Prince expresses will project a powerful image.

These youngsters can also be quite subjective. They can put their friends under pressure, but will not like being put into a tight corner themselves. They will take any slight or criticism very personally. Because of this attitude, they may well rub people in the wrong way. Prince will be very intense. There will be a relentless determination that can be quite scary. This child will be quite a fighter and sometimes the temper may not always be under control. Prince will need to use the natural energy in hard work. In this way the destructive side of this aspect will be put to good use.

The relationship with the father is very important, regardless of the sex of this child. If Prince has a problem in this area, there could be trouble getting along with men in general throughout life. Every man will be seen as a potential threat or competitor.

The adolescent years and the onset of puberty can add another dimension to the need to control, or be controlled. Prince will experience the hormonal changes in a powerful and dramatic way which could affect the moods to a large degree. This charismatic youngster will be highly sought after, but could misuse the natural ability to attract admirers with little or no effort. Prince will certainly relate well to the opposite sex but will need to be taught to take responsibility in sexual matters and consider other people as well. The examples that have been set in childhood will influence how Prince attacks the mating game when that time arrives.

As Prince grows up, the ambition will show through. Without a few lessons during childhood to be more caring of others, to think outwardly, rather than inwardly, this child can become ruthless. They could accumulate some strong enemies. These kids will often stir up controversy, but with a firm set of principles in place and some sensitivity towards the rest of the world instilled, this should not be a major problem. This aspect is about power being used in a positive way.

Mercury opposite Pluto (Strength: 2.26)

The oppositions bring about awareness through compromise. Conflict within the opposition can involve either internal or external issues.

With the expressive planet Mercury opposing the deep planet Pluto, Prince is likely to be very frank and very outspoken. In fact, the speech will seem to be quite abrupt and sharp. These kids are usually reserved and idle chit-chat is not an automatic function for them. The mind processes facts in black and white, and the natural expression reflects this. The problem is that even while they are young, the mode of expression seems to bring about conflict. When challenged, Prince may become quite arrogant, as if credibility is being questioned. These kids take everything so seriously. They are only interested in serious subjects - so a major lesson is for them to learn to be less serious. To be able to admit that they are wrong and it is no big deal. Discourage Prince from becoming obsessed with just personal ideas, ideals, and theories. Try to train the thinking to broader terms so that accepting and rejecting ideas comes easily with minimum offence. Make even "little things" seem worthwhile. But with all the work and problems in the world, Prince will be an intense thinker with little acceptance of compromise.

However, this child will certainly go through some very important psychological changes throughout their young lives. They will have difficult patches, but as each "growth" area is reached, it will be taken on board and this little one will settle down until the next spurt. This can be a trying time for all concerned, but the gloomy clouds will abate.

This aspect can show mental tension. This "attitude" thing can cause problems with friends, neighbours, or even family if it is allowed to develop too far. However, unconditional love will help this child through the difficult growing years.

Jupiter opposite Pluto (Strength: 2.19)

The oppositions bring about awareness through compromise. Conflicts from the opposition can involve either internal or external issues.

Prince has the big planet Jupiter in Opposition to the deep and powerful planet Pluto. Pluto moves very slowly, so this aspect will affect all of the kids born around the same time as Prince. Unless either of these two planets gets reinforcement from a close contact to one or more of the inner planets, this should not be considered particularly personal.

These kids tend to have a whole lot of energy but very little patience. They are single-minded with a big sense of purpose. Power struggles are often very common with this aspect. These kids will want to be in control - not just on a personal level - they would like to have total control. A few lessons in patience, caring, and humility will help enormously.

Many of these kids will rank in the "high achiever" circle and success can easily be theirs. They will really love to learn, but must learn to listen to others in order to develop their knowledge even more.

Especially in the adult, this aspect can signify fanatical ideals of righteousness, and very fixed opinions.

Natal Horoscope Child Report for Prince George of Cambridge

This attitude can be altogether too intense and can cause huge problems in the area of attitude. Try to coax this child into learning the art of compromise. It will make life so much easier for them.

Moon inconjunct Venus (Strength: 2.14)

The inconjunct (quincunx) involves the willpower and the areas where our "thinking patterns" need some work.

These children with the emotional Moon inconjunct the gentle planet Venus, need to be loved a whole lot more than most kids - particularly by the Mother or a "Mother figure". If Prince feels that this love is not there, insecurities will follow and will haunt the memories with loss right throughout life. A basic fundamental with this aspect is the need to be liked and accepted, and Prince can actually need more than what is possible. The Maternal role model could lead a busy life with work, or other commitments. She may simply not be the cuddly mum that Prince craves. But the loss will be felt. These poor kids will grab at whatever substitutes they can find. They will be actively seeking love without even knowing what it is that they are looking for. And subsequently, not knowing how to give this precious commodity, they will not recognise the qualities when "love" does arrive. The childish perceptions will be wrapped up in ideology rather than realism. The knowledge of "love" will be absolutely minimal.

But if Prince is given all of the love that is needed from the beginning, a deep confidence and assurance will emerge. This child will be able to share and love in the most natural and healthy way.

Love is associated with this aspect in a big way. Even the most loved and adored child will have to learn to understand the meaning of "unconditional love". The whole perception of this natural commodity can be inflated and seen as a bargaining tool rather than as the simple gift that it is.

Sun square Saturn (Strength: 1.99)

The Squares are quite subjective. Squares bring challenges that must be worked through.

Prince has the Sun squared off to Saturn which is not an easy aspect. For a starter, this is often the sign of the perfectionist, a person who sets such high standards that a sense of failure is almost guaranteed. These types naturally judge themselves too harshly. Prince will have a lot of difficulty being satisfied with anything productive or personal.

There can be a problem with authority figures. For example, there may be the feeling that the Father figure (or a similar role model) is too strict or too remote. Prince will probably learn to keep all feelings closely guarded because of this influence, especially deep, sensitive, and personal feelings. Some part of this child's life may be hard. The real problem though is that this little one is hard on itself. Other people only reinforce this inherent negative attitude.

However, there is a positive side of this aspect. These kids become survivors capable of coping with most of life's pressures. When Prince does start looking at life with more detachment, the ability to be capable and sensible will be a strong asset. Nothing will faze these kids. They will have a strong sense of discipline with a realistic attitude. Generally, this is a good combination for later success.

But try to train this serious child to always look at what they have accomplished rather than what they have not. Teach Prince to see that the self-imposed standards are impossible for anyone reach. Acknowledge any achievements with gusto. Give this child an early taste of accepting success with pride.

Venus opposite Neptune (Strength: 1.27)

The oppositions bring about awareness through compromise. Conflict within the opposition can involve either internal or external issues.

With the planet of love, Venus, in opposition to the mysterious planet Neptune, this little person will have rose tinted glasses on. These children try to avoid the harsh realities of human nature in preference for a mythical, perfect world. If these blinkers are not worked on, then Prince will be continually disappointed in any friendships. The mind will never see human nature for what it is. This highly creative child does have very powerful visions that colour the imagination with magnificent images. Unfortunately, until Prince learns to pop in to the real world, expression can be difficult. The difference between the imagery and the reality will be too difficult to define. Prince will need to be carefully trained, and then gently drawn out. Very early in life, make all the creative mediums available to find what area this child fancies. Admire efforts, but make sure anything started is finished. Make sure that Prince is responsible for tidying up when finished. When old enough, let Prince have a choice in materials needed for leisure type things, and make it be known that nothing comes for just anything. Practicality is all a part of life. This is a very small way to teach this imaginative child the need for some discipline, some effort, and some responsibility. Neptune is often responsible for robbing us of natural confidence, and this opposition is not an exception. Prince will need to be taught to feel strong and positive. Being aware of this child's fragility is important. The very nature will be quiet, wary, and almost reclusive - so almost too easy to miss. There can be a tendency toward self-indulgence with this aspect. Later in life, when adolescence kicks in, these children can be especially susceptible to drugs and alcohol. It is imperative that Prince learns to accept that life can be difficult and is taught how to cope rather than head for escapism. This child must come to terms with the world for what it is. There can also be some confusion in sexual matters when the hormones burst into life. Again, a sheer lack of confidence can make this a very difficult time. Take the time to explain the facts of life.

But none of this will be a big problem if these children are helped to develop that important 'love of thy self'. As long as they know where the ground is and where their feet are, they can overcome the negative tendencies of this aspect. They will be well equipped to have very loving and beautiful relationships. Prince is genuinely able to give in a huge way and, so, will naturally receive a whole lot in return.

Moon square Saturn (Strength: 0.30)

The Squares are quite subjective. Squares bring challenges that must be worked through.

The Moon Square Saturn can be quite difficult at times because these kids do tend to feel lonely. Prince may get heavy and turn moody. Often there is the feeling of being not loved enough perhaps, and the result is these kids feel "unlovable". Prince can feel left out, not important, and take the attitude that nobody cares anyway. This loneliness grows into a deep resentment. Often this feeling is unfounded because even if these kids are given the usual family warmth, they still feel unimportant and neglected. So to help overcome this feeling, these kids will a whole lot of reassurance. Make sure that someone is available to listen to problems when they arise. But a token gesture at listening will not help. Prince needs a genuine ear and genuine caring to overcome this frailty. These kids need to feel OK and an important member of the family. Prince will need to be given a sense of belonging. The Mother especially must accept and support this child. This problem will magnify as time goes on if there is a rift. This child can too easily become distanced from the maternal figure. This can grow in to an unrealistic love/hate thing. The fact of the matter is that there will be no essential bonding which will be badly felt. The Mother may be absent, very busy, or not particularly warm. None of this can be changed, but it does need to be recognised as affecting Prince in a big way.

Being temperamental can cause Prince many problems in childhood, but these difficulties will seem to fall away with maturity. There is a lot of negative insecurity associated with this aspect, but there is also an ability to learn by mistakes.

These kids will work hard to prove themselves. As an adult this will be a classic "survivor" who will be strong, self-sufficient and able to cope with anything.

DOMINANT PLANET(S)

The prominence of the Planets and the contacts that they make with each other define the strongest Planet(s) in the Natal Chart. Some planets make a lot of "noise" which you will see in the area of the "Aspects" whilst some are just waiting for something to happen. The following are considered the Powerhouse Planets and their meetings and positions add a further dimension to the attitudes and aptitudes of Prince.

There can be more than one "strongest planet" in which case the person will have a natural ability to dance to many tunes - they will be adaptable and versatile. But if one planet or luminary comes through as the absolute leader, then the person will be very specifically made up of the flavour of that celestial body.

Uranus Dominant (Strength: 28.68)

Uranus is a huge planet that has the reputation for causing all sorts of chaos. Uranus has a mind of its own; racing around in space on its side and with an orbit that is unpredictable. Uranus is very difficult to spot with the naked eye. Similarly, the Uranian traits are quite difficult to 'spot'. The major function of Uranus could be described as the awakening, and the merging of the subconscious and the conscious. This great planet throws in some clever intuition that is often the deciding factor when we didn't even think we were in a 'choice' situation. Subliminal affirmations and answers flow from this area. This 'cranky' planet brings change - unexpected, sudden, and completely disruptive change. It can be the source of disasters or miracles. The function of Uranus is to disrupt our view of reality, and give us an alternative view beyond the known and the visible. Uranus provides sudden flashes of insight and creative genius as well as practised eccentricity. Uranus has the ability to shake up the comfort of the "norm" and catapult us into a rather scary future.

This planet stays in each sign for about 7 years so is considered one of the slow movers. The House where Uranus falls will indicate the area of erratic and major changes in direction.

The huge planet Uranus is often referred to as the 'Awakener' because it is all about the unexpected, the erratic, and revolutionary changes. This planet gives us a wake-up call when we least expect it. Uranus shakes us out of our complacency. Uranus is responsible for earthquakes, eruptions, any natural disaster that you can name, but it can also claim fame for sudden miracles too.

Prince, with the influence of Uranus strong in the chart, will experience many changes. This little one will be forced to cover a lot of new ground. These children will have to adjust to momentous upheavals. Life will be full of surprises.

Natal Horoscope Child Report for Prince George of Cambridge

Prince will naturally gravitate towards new ideas, perhaps because life is erratic. These children will not have a lot of respect for the establishment, possibly for the same reason. This will be a very 'unique' individual. Prince will be quite hard to understand because the mind is tuned into the airwaves, the magnetic fields, 'tomorrow's world', rather than solid terra firma. There will be a certain magnetism that attracts others easily. These children can seem rather remote and cool because their nature is intellectual rather than sensitive, and yet they can be highly intuitive. The subconscious is strong. Prince will certainly care about others, but ambition will be for the whole of society rather than focusing sustained help on an individual.

Mercury Dominant (Strength: 28.67)

Mercury, the mythical messenger, predominant in the natal Chart points to communication and the mind. This strong influence makes for a youngster who is articulate, versatile, agile, and energetic. The mind will dart from one subject to the next, but the ability to process and express what has been absorbed should be keen. This busy little planet collects and classifies all the information that filters through the brain and the mind. And it carefully discards what it does not need, or already knows. This is how Prince will operate on such an intellectual level. This child will just have to be able to express how they feel. Prince will want you to know, understand, and listen. Sharing all of that knowledge is at least half of the fun of learning.

Mercury also heightens the co-ordination, allowing flexibility both of the mind and the physical body. When the influence of Mercury flows through a Gemini influence, the mental capacity will be very strong. The warm and humorous side of this planet shines through. When this energy comes from a strong Virgo showing, the dexterity will be the ability to use the hands to create. Although the mind is clever and capable, it reflects the cooler side of Mercury - the analytical and the self-critical side.

All of these children will love to learn. They will argue the point, make their thoughts known, and they will be expressive in their writing and oral skills.

Prince can also suffer from nerves as Mercury rules the nervous system. It is highly likely that this child runs on nervous energy. This Planet also covers the memory and the perception.

Ascendant Dominant (Strength: 28.00)

The Ascendant is not actually a House. It is an Angle and a very important angle. It is the beginning of the Wheel and defines the subsequent Houses, as explained previously in the area of the Ascendant. However, having close contact with either of the luminaries, or with one or more of the planets (via aspects), energises this "point", and it dominates the character and outward personality even further.

Prince will project the Ascendant in a powerful way. This child will have a strong personality. A strong physical presence will be hard to miss. These children will like to be in the thick of anything that interests them. Prince will seldom be noted as an idle bystander. This child will be well able to stand on its own two feet and will be instrumental in helping others along the way too. There should be loads of energy - at least enough for two. Prince will be able to make decisions, and lead from the front and will probably gather quite a few followers along the way.

On the eventful journey through life, this little one will probably invest a lot in their many friends. They will contribute substantially to those with whom they mix, but will, in turn, learn a lot through interactions with others too. It would be unusual if this child turned out to be a "loner" or anti-social in any way. But it is very important that the Sign on the Ascendant is given close attention. If there are any negative aspects flowing to the Ascendant this could indicate strong lessons that have to be dealt with in the area of the personality.

The image that these people project though, will be one of their most powerful tools.

DOMINANT SIGN(S)

The Strongest sign often coincides with that of the Sun in the Natal Chart because Mercury is the Sun's closest companion - they are never far apart. Venus also sticks quite closely to the mighty Sun, and to a lesser degree, Mars never strays too far away. So, one or more of these planets are often in the same sign as the Sun at birth adding further strength.

However, in many cases the "outer" planets can gang up and create a very strong, but quite a different, influence. This area of the Chart will either add more weight to the colour and personality of this Child or it could add a further hue to their approach and intensity.

If there is more than one "strongest sign", which is likely, the person will have various facets to their approach and abilities, and so will scatter their energies somewhat. If there is one singleton sign, which outweighs the rest, Prince will be more easily recognised by the attributes of the sign involved.

Cancer Dominant (Strength: 294.19)

Natal Horoscope Child Report for Prince George of Cambridge

One of the strongest signs in this chart for Prince is the sign of Cancer, the crab. Cancerians can be a lot like the crab in the rock-pool. They will nestle under the sand where they can see what is going on, but feel safely "hidden". The crab has its house on its back, wanting nothing more than to stay just where they are - forever. Everything will be peaceful and content until someone puts a careless toe in the wrong place. And then the crab will make its presence felt, - no matter the size or might of the intruder. The crab will then scuttle away having been felt, but probably, not seen. The Cancerian influence is not aggressive, but it is crabby, it can nip, and it often omits to explain where it is coming from. The "fight" involves minimum confrontation but it can cause a heavy atmosphere. This is the "Cancerian" way of getting noticed. The Cancerian does tend to sulk. The Moon rules Cancer so the Moon phases will affect the temperament of this child in quite a big way. So, obviously, Prince can be very moody indeed. These little ones can change their mind and their opinions in an instant and then give no explanations as to why.

But Prince can be a psychic sponge soaking up the atmosphere. These kids respond through their emotions. They are very sensitive and will be easily hurt. Often their shell conceals their vulnerability. These kids will have a mind of their own and are well able to make their own decisions. They can seem to be quite tough. But in other ways, they can be quite clingy and dependent on others.

Often the Cancerian child will be interested in history, especially family history. They do like to be able to identify with their roots and their heritage. The little Cancerian is firmly attached to the home and very territorial - fiercely protective of the family environment and all those that are dear to them. This is the little Mother of the Zodiac who will like nothing better than looking after anyone that will let them.

Cancer rules the stomach, the digestion, and these kids can be real worriers that bottle up the feelings and hurts. And then end up with tummy cramps, or simply go right off their food altogether. But caring, listening and loving will be of enormous help to Prince in times of stress. A big warm cuddle will do wonders.

Scorpio Dominant (Strength: 180.47)

One of the strongest signs in this Chart is Scorpio. The Scorpio character, like the Scorpion beetle, can emit a powerful presence. These people are well able to send a cold shiver down the spine of anyone if they feel that they are exposed or vulnerable. If they feel they are under attack or threatened, they will strike out physically or verbally. They will sting like no other sign in the Zodiac can. Prince will be very deep, very passionate, and very stubborn. There can also be a strong case of the "green eyed monster" lurking too because the Scorpio character can be very jealous.

Natal Horoscope Child Report for Prince George of Cambridge

But the Scorpio child is sensitive and intuitive and capable of the most profound understanding. Prince will have the benefit of a powerful logic and an amazing intrinsic "knowing". First impressions are usually extremely accurate. These kids should learn early to go with their initial reactions in most things. It is very hard to deceive these little people although they can be deliberately deceptive themselves if they want to be. They like to dig and delve to find the answers to questions and are experts at getting to the bottom of a mystery. This is why the Scorpio character makes a great detective or researcher. They will sift through every bit of data in a quest for truth.

Prince will make friends easily with such a magnetic personality but will be very selective about who is allowed to get close. These kids like to know all about everyone else but are very private about their own deepest feelings and thoughts. The Scorpio personality can be a bit secretive. However, once a friendship or relationship has been established, these children will be absolutely loyal and will deny themselves if they have to - in the name of love.

This child will have little interest in boring, routine things. They truly like to get their teeth into something that has a bit of substance, and this is where they will achieve their best results.

The Eagle also defines the Scorpio character. It is often said that this particular sign can be a saint or a sinner. They can pour all their power and their tremendous ability through that sting in their tail, or they can take flight and soar like the Eagle to heights that are elusive to many.

Capricorn Dominant (Strength: 169.43)

A strong sign in this Chart for Prince is Capricorn the Goat. If you look closely at the goat, you will see a wise, but wary, little beast that takes very sure steps. They seem to be quite content in their own company and at home with the elements, no matter how harsh. For their size, they have real tenacity and a quiet strength that marks them as a survivor. The goat will familiarise itself with the territory and in its own way, take ownership of their patch. They are not particularly aggressive, but they will defend their rights in a rather subtle way, biding their time. If they have to, they make a strong point. They will not give up, but the stubbornness will be mixed with subtlety. And this is the Capricorn personality.

Prince will be ambitious and will study hard. These kids take life and their future very seriously. They can be trusted to use common sense and sound judgement, so they often seem very mature for their age. Fortunately, there is the opposite effect as they get older - Capricorn people hold their years well. Personal standards will be set very high and the sheer dedication applied will often ensure that all these standards are in fact met.

Although self-assured, in many ways, the Capricorn child can be timid and quite afraid of being hurt. They are sensitive but create a protective wall to ward off hostility and bad feelings. Pain and feelings of hurt are often concealed. The Capricorn type is not easily offended because, being so independent, opinions of others do not matter a great deal. But, this child is no fool. A silent pride runs very deep. This child will not forgive or forget.

Prince will look for recognition for successes, as these kids do like to be noticed. They like their share of the limelight without having to fight for it. They want to be seen for their brilliance, not for foolishness. Many good actors have a strong Capricorn influence and so do many comedians. There is often a very dry, subtle and clever sense of humour that belies the serious exterior of this character. These people can laugh at themselves but they will not like to be made to look small or stupid.

DOMINANT HOUSE(S)

The Houses in the Natal Chart are very significant because they indicate the areas where we have been born lucky or where we have serious work to do. The Houses define the areas in life where we expend our energies, where we find recurring issues with which we have to deal.

The basic Natal Chart is simply the blueprint of the Heavens at the exact time of our birth. But in reading a child's chart, there is a different emphasis. Obviously a child "reflects" its everyday environment during the formative years and this Natal chart for Prince acknowledges these reflections. In the case of a child, many of the attitudes and habits are reflections of the upbringing and environmental influences. Often work needs to be done to reach out for the opposite House to achieve a fuller picture.

It is very important to apply these interpretations with the dominant sign and the planets involved. Together, they make much more sense and will be more easily recognised.

The report gives a "one-liner" explanation for each relevant House throughout the basic Chart, which relates to children.

Eighth House Dominant (Strength: 243.03)

8th House: This House is about the parents' values and the provisions that they make. Look here for psychological input from the parents. It is about secrets, subliminal learning and deep changes. Lessons from this House lead to profound understandings often brought about by inevitable change. It is the stirrings of new beginnings and the ashes of the past.

Natal Horoscope Child Report for Prince George of Cambridge

This child has a lot of Planets in the 8th House. Traditionally, the 8th House is related to "joint resources" but of course, few children have their own resources. It is about regeneration - death of the "old" and replacing it with the new. It is about the ultimate depth of relationships and friendships. It is about sacrifice in a way. The 8th House in the young person points to outside values that are placed on them. It is how they feel basic needs are met.

This child will no doubt go through many deep and far reaching changes as they wend their way through life. They will go through the process in their own way, but the "actual" changes are likely to have been forced on them - perhaps changes of location, friends moving away, or changes in family circumstances. This child may have to learn to deal with the death of a special person very early in life - maybe more than one - which could stir up the beginnings of a fascination with the subject of life after death, the spiritual world, and the darker domains. Change, for this little one is inevitable. But somehow there will be that knowledge that each new dawn brings a new life. But no matter the mature acceptance that is projected, there will be pain attached.

With all these Planets in such a deep and searching House Prince will be well equipped to deal with whatever life hands out. But this little one will do this very privately. These kids perhaps feel alone and feel that they have no one with whom they can share their feelings. Or they may feel that only they can really understand. These children feel very, very deeply - with a passion. However, they do need to know that they are not entirely alone. This is important.

In reaching to their opposite House, the 2nd House, Prince should be encouraged to learn to let the feelings show, to stand up and say, "I want", now and again even if it sounds childish, or does expose some of the private inner self. This child will need to be a bit more relaxed, not be so intense. Prince will need to learn to trust and lean on others, but this will probably need to be "taught". It will not be a natural fundamental - to "trust".

Third House Dominant (Strength: 215.44)

3rd House: This House is about early education. It is about mental stimulation that provokes learning through interaction and experience, and then using the lessons. The area for the child is the playground, playgroups, mixing with children the same age. It is about becoming familiar with the local environment and the neighbours. This is essentially the House that is all about communication at it best and its beginnings.

Prince has a lot of strength in the 3rd house. The 3rd House is all about early education, the local environment, brothers and sisters, and communications. It is the beginnings of 'standing on one's own feet'. It is the forming of opinions - getting to know people outside of the family home. It is discovering the mediums available that supply information, such as TV, Internet, telephones, newspapers, and using the good old vocal chords.

Within the home environment, Prince is likely to not only start talking early, but also, once started, may never stop. There will be a fair few arguments. This child loves a battle of wits, and sometimes being contrary is the best way to get the whole family talking. But guess who will always have the last word! And with age, this is likely to become a bit of a game, especially when it is assured of getting a reaction. These children will like to prove how smart they are and the best way they can do this is through their great word power.

Prince is bound to be very active in the local neighbourhood. This child will enjoy participating in any social activities, but will especially love talking to anyone that will listen. This is the sort of child who can brighten up a lonely person's day just by being friendly. So, in all probability you will have quite a well-known entity in your midst.

Prince is bound to be very curious and very active, but will get bored easily. This youngster will be continually looking for stimulation, looking for new things, new places, and new people.

This house is very concerned with speech, communications, and learning. A message to the child with such a strong 3rd House is to reach out to the opposite house, the 9th House, which involves higher learning. It is more about the big wide world. Perhaps the message is to use this gift of words to teach, to pass on what they have learned. It also suggests that this little one needs to learn to 'listen' rather than simply talk. It suggests a need for guidance and training to look deeper and not be content with superficial knowledge. And that way they will expand the ultimate learning and get recognition and respect for these natural talents.

Ninth House Dominant (Strength: 190.37)

9th House: This House reflects the influence and the encouragement from teachers, like report cards, recognition of ability - or lack of needed encouragement and advice. This House is about the development of self-esteem. It is about seeking and sharing knowledge. It is about developing skills and setting goals. It is about expanding on what today offers and taking it into the future.

Prince has a lot of planets in the 9th House that relates traditionally towards philosophy, universities, travel, and religious beliefs. The 9th house for the child is related to results, teachers, and report cards. How their peers see them.

Prince will be an optimist with loads of energy and a passion for learning. This little one will want to be involved with everything that is going on. They will have good leadership abilities and will have a deep understanding of quite profound and seemingly adult ideals. There will be a strong sense of justice, and this child will be very fair, insisting that everyone get a fair deal. They will probably be the ones who knows all the rules and will make sure that whatever they are involved with is done by the "rules".

Prince will have lots of friends because this child will know how to co-operate. They also know how to bring out the best in others. The communications skills will be brilliant. It will be instinctive to know what attitude to take with whatever company they are in. The knowledge will be such that Prince can hold a conversation on most subjects. For this reason, this child will be widely accepted by most people that they meet. The tongue can be a bit sharp at times as these kids tend say first and think later. As they get older, travel to exotic and different places in the world will appeal to broaden the horizons and the mind and settle down an innate restlessness.

These kids will benefit by reaching out to the opposite 3rd House and include their families, brothers, sisters, and relatives, in the same way as they "include" the rest of the world. They can seem to "forget" their families too easily and quickly because their journey through life will start at quite a tender age.

Balance of Elements and Modalities

DOMINANT ELEMENT(S)

The four elements figure strongly in the definition and interpretation of the signs. The dominant element(s) can help to identify the personality type quite successfully. In many cases, there will be a combination of more than one, which indicates more flexibility.

It can be quite easy to spot the "fiery" personality, the "down to earth" type, the "head in the clouds" Air person, or the weepy and emotional water character.

Abundant Water

The water signs are Cancer, Scorpio, and Pisces. Water indicates sensitivity, compassion, and imagination. These kids can be very deep and private. They can seem to be quite shy. A dominant moon, Neptune, or Pluto can add to the abundance of water characteristics in this chart.

These children are the most sensitive and emotional of all. They often feel not only their own emotions but also those of the people around them. When a water person meets someone for the first time, they can often size up the depths very quickly and accurately through sheer intuition. It is very important that the parents handle this ability carefully. They will need to be wary about who these children associate with. These kids can pick up negative and bad vibes as easily as they can pick up good vibes. And when they do hone into negative vibrations, they will take the whole lot on board themselves. "Other peoples problems" will become part of this sensitive child. For this same reason, it is not necessary to reprimand water children harshly. They get the picture with very few words and will "feel" the rest. In fact, it is less important to reprimand water children when they have done wrong than it is to reassure them afterward. It is vital that a water child has a secure childhood. The emotional impressions from childhood do not fade. There can be a danger that these kids can head for escapism too readily, to get away from the "nasties" that they do not want to face. They do not enjoy confrontation and will choose to retreat. Emotions may dominate this child's thinking so much that it is hard to reason with them.

If water children are brought up to feel secure within, they can be quite strong. Their sensitivity allows them to understand and give generously to those in need. With such a powerful imagination, they can be extremely artistic or creative. The sense of vision can be a powerful asset.

Abundant Earth

The Earth signs are Taurus, Virgo, and Capricorn. Earth signs are "down to earth". They are practical, reliable, and quite sensible. These kids will be quite physical, being attuned to their senses. A dominant Saturn can certainly add a lot of weight to the predominance of Earth in this chart.

Prince will be rather conservative. The preference will be to deal with the tried and true. But you can talk this little person into anything, once they have seen that it "works". They like to organise and need order and discipline in their lives, and if they do not have this, they may feel quite insecure. Earth children have a great ability to stay in control, no matter how difficult the environment becomes. They draw on their greatest strength - practicality. The natural ability to be realistic will show at a very early age. But these kids can get too carried away with efficiency and forget to enjoy what they are doing. These children need to be encouraged to develop the imagination, because the combination of imagination and tenacity can be extremely effective. It will also ease the tendency to become dull and predictable.

Another problem can be one of self-image. Very often, these kids see themselves in a poor light, feeling they are not as much "fun" as they should be. But they are serious. They are made this way. There is also the naturally critical attitude making them find fault in themselves far more than is logical. In fact, the high standards that are set, and expected, do need to be brought into perspective. There is the need to learn that a few flaws will not compromise expectations and will actually lighten the load some.

In a very real sense, earthy persons are the "salt of the earth". They are dependable, reliable, and quite solid.

Prince will also develop good taste and will not be afraid to pay plenty for expensive assets when older. There is an eye for quality and an eye for what would be a good investment. Learning to have some fun during childhood will allow pleasure to be taken from all this good taste and good management.

Lack of Air

When an element is "lacking", it can indicate a need to encourage the essentials of this "lack", to help round the character off a little. This often happens over time anyway, quite naturally. But watch Prince and you will see if any building needs to be done. But rather than see this as a "weakness", it is preferable to accept that one or more of the other elements comes through more strongly. The apparent "lack" can also be compensated within the chart anyway. It only needs one powerful aspect to add some weight.

The Air signs are Gemini, Libra, and Aquarius.

With the Air element lacking in this chart for Prince, it can mean an inability to think clearly or reasonably. There can be a real difficulty accepting the challenge of alternative views. This child can seem to be a bit of a void in some strange way. It is not that these kids are not intelligent, but just that they do not seem to place a lot of value on ideas and education for education's sake. Often, a shortage of Air signifies an inability to communicate effectively or clearly. Prince may work hard at being somewhat enigmatic and obscure. Sometimes there is self-consciousness. These kids may over-compensate by working hard to improve the personality because they realise that they have a problem in relating well. It may be hard for Prince to stand back and clearly view an issue in an objective manner - so there can be a tendency to have some trouble in the task of planning.

These people must make a special effort to communicate clearly and plan very carefully. Otherwise, any advancement will come only through costly trial and error.

Lack of Fire

When an element is "lacking", it can indicate a need to encourage the essentials of this "lack", to help round the character off a little. This often happens over time anyway, quite naturally. But watch Prince and you will see if any building needs to be done.

But rather than see this as a "weakness", it is preferable to accept that one or more of the other elements comes through more strongly. The apparent "lack" can also be compensated within the chart anyway. It only needs one powerful aspect to add some weight.

The Fire signs are Aries, Leo, and Sagittarius.

When the Fire element is lacking, it may benefit this child to become more active and more urgent. They may lack the passion and spark that the fire signs give. This does not mean that Prince will not enjoy life, but merely that there is a reluctance to burst into action. Pleasure, thrills, and glory will be slow coming their way because these kids cannot be bothered to make it happen. The sense of adventure is apt to be more subtle and sensitive, without the dramatics, daring and spontaneity. The lack of competitiveness will hold this child back though.

Although this does not guarantee an introvert, this child is not likely to be an extrovert. Prince may like to stand back and let the other person make the first move. Maybe this child does underestimate abilities and self worth. But, Prince may just like to test the water before jumping in.

By underestimating their abilities, these kids are apt to often end up assisting others whose talents are less than their own. Prince can be easily overpowered. Actually, these kids do not like being in the spotlight.

In some cases, a child lacking fire in the chart may try to force many of the more aggressive fire sign traits in order to compensate for the actual lack of these traits. Characteristic of this would be a person who excels at a sport (perhaps) finding the ability to win through extreme hard work and dogged perseverance. The fire, in this case, is lacking but the "burning" comes from within.

DOMINANT MODES or QUALITIES

The "Modes" or the "Qualities" often indicate how we initiate our actions. The Cardinal types are firm, confident, and are better starters than they are finishers. The Fixed types are quite reluctant to step outside of the comfort zone. They prefer to stay with the tried and true. The Mutable people are flexible and adaptable but they can be flimsy.

But, again, in many cases there is a combination of more than one mode.

Abundant Cardinal

The Cardinal signs are the first sign of each of the four segments - Aries, Cancer, Libra, and Capricorn. These signs are rather assertive, and like to take the initiative.

Natal Horoscope Child Report for Prince George of Cambridge

These are the self-starters - the self-imposed leaders. For this reason, it is sometimes difficult for cardinal-sign people to co-operate and compromise easily. Libra is a bit of an exception being so "agreeable" in many aspects of life, and being so willing to please. But the strong Libran will often take the initiative in starting a friendship. It is in this area that these particular (Libran) people will take the initiative. Unfortunately, the Cardinal signs may not finish what they have started.

Prince will enjoy the role of the leader, but may not take it very well if forced to take a secondary role. If these kids are not calling the shots, they may well lose interest altogether. It can be easier for them to avoid group activities rather than take the more submissive role of watching someone else run the show.

In a difficult situation, Prince will usually prefer a direct approach charging right into the situation to resolve it as quickly as possible. Ideas may be good because there will be a natural aptitude at solving problems, but a major problem is lack of persistence. These kids get discouraged easily and need a great deal of support to help them stay with a project. Prince will work well if taught to set goals and then be given heaps of praise when achievement has been recognised.

Prince will thrive on constant activity with efforts directed at the here and now. The ambition will be strong and the instincts reactionary. Positively expressed, the Cardinal signs produce constructive initiative, but this imbalance can easily produce a lot of wasted energy that gains little.

Lack of Mutable

The Mutable Modes are made up of the signs Gemini, Virgo, Sagittarius, and Pisces.

A chart that is nearly void of the mutable element suggests that Prince may have difficulties with changes in life. These kids will be very cautious about trying new things and prefer to remain loyal to the status quo. Because changes threaten the feeling of well being, Prince can stay stuck in a rut. The inflexibility is not necessarily due to stubbornness or ego (although both may contribute in this case), but stems from a desire to maintain order and stability. Because Prince does not adapt very well, it will be too easy to stay on an obviously wrong course of action rather than call it quits. Or this kid will sense failure eventually and will give up in despair. Try to instil some drive and accountability. Encourage Prince to try new things and meet new people.

FINALE

Natal Horoscope Child Report for Prince George of Cambridge

As adults, we look back on our youth and say, "if only I knew then what I know now". How many of us also, as we get older, "discover" a talent that has never been recognised and say "if only". If this Chart report simply indicates a talent that can be nurtured early in life, as opposed to laying dormant for too long a time, or forever, then the author's objective has been reached.
